Dedication

Mr. DeLancey,

From the very first day we walked into your class, you've been there for us. All four years. We've been your "test subjects" (and yes, we know we've made things a bit... challenging at times), but somehow, you've stuck with us. We're sorry for all the chaos—like that time you had to practically rip Ava off of Gavin during freshman year—but through it all, you kept you cool. You've never judged us, always let us come to you with anything personal, and you'v always had our backs, no matter what.

You've been more than just a teacher to us. You've been someone who tries to make our lives a little easier, whether it's with your constant encouragement or standing up for us when things went sideways. Like, let's be real—wrappers on the heaters? You didn't even get us in trouble. We know we put you through your paces, but you've been one of the few who's really gone the extra mile to make sure we succeed, both in and out of the classroom.

We'll never forget those first moments—especially the sight of you walking around with broken glasses in freshman year! Classic. But more than the moments we'll laugh about forever, we'll remember you taking the time to care. Like when you gave us granola bar apples, and oranges before the AP Euro exam. You sacrificed so much of your time, and we've always appreciated that.

You've always made sure we understood the content, and more importantly, you've understood that we're teenagers with lives outside of school. That balance is something we'll never forget.

So, thank you, Mr. DeLancey, for everything. For being the teacher who stuck by us through it all. And one last thing... we're still waiting on that taco party!

You'll always be remembered. - The Seniors of '25

Letter From The Editor

Hey guys,

Has it been a crazy year! When I originally took on the role of the president and lead editor of the yearbook I had no idea what I was getting myself into. This role has been one of the hardest, craziest, stressful, most enjoyable things I have ever done. From close call deadlines, to managing a whole team of people, to late nights working on finishing pages, and weeks and weeks of frustration feeling like this was never going to work, we finally have a finished product. I have learned so much from my experience in the yearbook. Not only have I learned good time management, but also what it takes to be a leader and how to take charge when things need to get done. When I first started the yearbook, I couldn't even see myself talking to another human being, let alone lead, and now it is a much different story. This year has not been the easiest for the yearbook club, as we didn't have much structure or instruction on what we needed to do, so I was pretty much making it up as I went along this year. But it worked, and now we have a yearbook. And really, truly, I had a great group of people this year in the club, who put in the work andd made sure we could get this done on time. I am especially thankful to those who put in the extra effort when I needed it and took on more responsibilities without even missing a beat. And a big thank you to Mrs. RB and Carly, who were right there with me the whole time this year, helping to lessen the weight. So, this yearbook may not be the greatest work of art you've ever seen, but it is the combined blood, sweat, and tears of a determined group of people who wanted to create a lasting memorandum of our 2024-25 school year. So to anyone who made it this far down the page, thanks for your lasting support this year and we hope you enjoy our yearbook.

- Mia Jepson

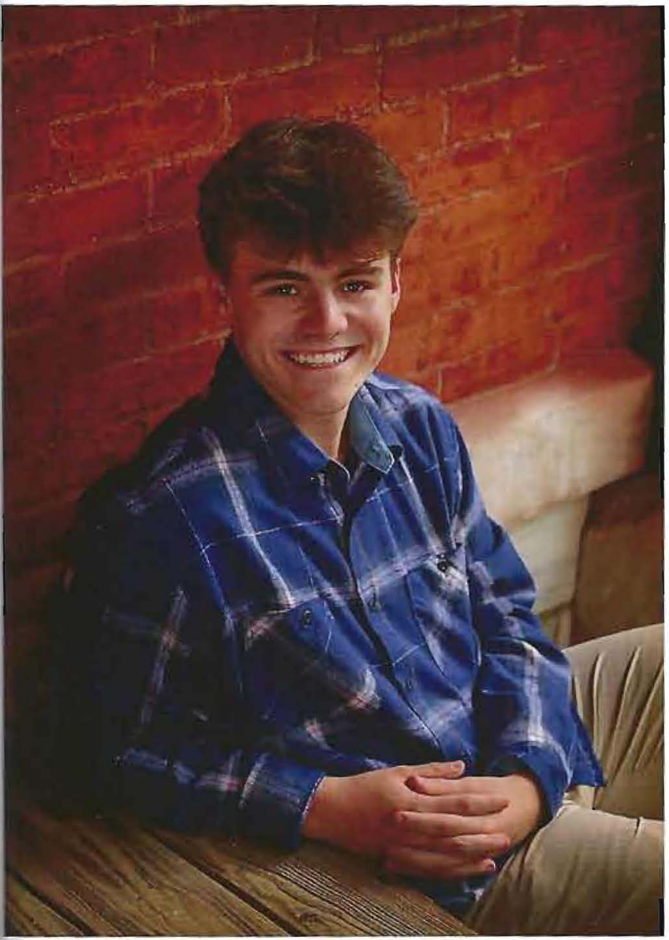
CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 2025!!



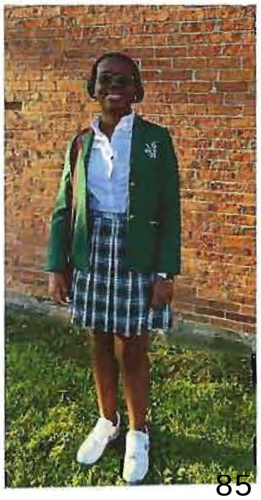
Dear Ricky,
Congratulations on your graduation! I am incredibly proud of your achievement. As you step into this new chapter of your life, remember that you have one earthly life—choose the path that brings you happiness and helps you achieve your dreams. It's important to live your own dream, not one that others expect of you.

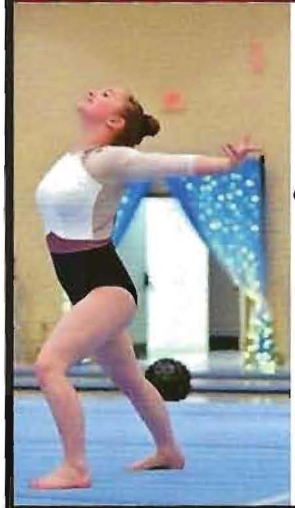
Dream big, take risks, travel, and push beyond your comfort zone. Embrace gratitude for both the significant milestones and the little things that bring joy.

You are an intelligent and courageous young man. Trust your intellect, but also listen to your heart. My wish for you is that life unfolds in a way that fulfills all your desires.

May your dreams remain grand, your worries remain small, and may you never carry more than you can hold. I love you...Mom

Scarlie,
Les années ont passé si vite, et nous n'arrivons pas à croire que tu es déjà en terminale. Depuis tes premiers pas jusqu'à aujourd'hui, tu as illuminé nos vies de ton sourire, de ta détermination et de tes incroyables accomplissements. Nous sommes si fiers de la jeune femme que tu es devenue, et nous savons que ton avenir sera aussi brillant que ton cœur est grand. Si ton papa était là, il partagerait notre immense fierté et notre amour pour toi.
Nous t'aimons plus que les mots ne peuvent l'exprimer.
Félicitations pour tout ce que tu as accompli, et pour cette étape si importante de ta vie à Mount Saint Joseph Academy.
Avec tout notre amour,
Ta Maman et toute ta famille!





Ava,
Over the past four years you have overcome many challenges. I know in my heart you are up for all of life's challenges ahead of you.
